New Market has been a key supporter and partner with Frederick County Goes Purple. The New Market Rotary as well.

Frederick County Goes Purple raises a voice for those in recovery and their families, and honors those we have lost to opioids and overdose. The whole county puts up banners, purple light bulbs and wears their purple T-shirts to raise a voice for those without a voice who struggle often alone. Many other municipalities work with us (Walkersville, Thurmont, Middletown, Brunswick, Frederick City) as well as Frederick County Public Schools and many businesses.

We are asking for permission to place our memorial banner with faces of those who have been lost, our sons and daughter, at your city park. And one of our banners at the Old City Townhall.

This is our website: www.crossedbridges.org

We hope to have someone with you at the board meeting next week. I won't make it as my son has a rehearsal dinner for his wedding that night.

Thank you for your kind consideration. We hope to continue to team with New Market to care for those who struggle.
